This weekend, the National Catholic Schools Week begins: "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men." (Matthew 4:19) During National Catholic Schools Week, we celebrate how education forms disciples in faith and character. Just as educators guide students in their growth, Jesus invites you to follow Him boldly. Could He be calling you to the priesthood or consecrated life to help form others in His ways? Talk to your priest or reach out to the Vocation Office at 800-246-1850, ext. 273.

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament is offered on Mon.-Fri. when school is in session. See this bulletin's "This Coming Week's Activities" for each day's Adoration hours. On Wednesdays, 2:00-3:00 PM, we again will have "A Joyful Noise," an hour for parents to pray with and for their children in the main area of the church (those without children are also welcomed.) Sign up for a date/time in the Adoration Chapel, or online at <https://signup.com/go/RDQxqsu>. Contact the Parish Office for assistance.

There are still envelopes available in the pews if you haven't had a chance to contribute to the Annual Catholic Appeal. Remember that participation is important, no matter how small the donation. Thank you so much for your prayerful consideration.

If you (or a few of you take turns) could give a long-time parishioner a ride to weekend Mass, please contact our Parish Office.

Message from Father Benjamin Fenlon

Brothers and sisters, I'm writing from England, on a short trip to renew my visa. Yesterday, after several years, I got to have a great conversation with my brother. Amongst other things, the topic of travelling came up. He said that after leaving the country and visiting different cultures around the world, he found that his mind was opened to seeing other people's points of view, ways of living, etc.

It certainly is a great blessing that I have experienced myself – having lived in different countries, I am able to appreciate much better how different people have different ways of processing emotion, solving problems, and ultimately, of loving. Culture is so much more than just the food we eat and the way we dress.

The Catholic Church, and the Eastern Churches in Communion with her, are the Kingdom of God on earth – the beginning of the Heaven on earth. But what does our own Church culture consist of? How can we recognize it?

The answer is, our culture can be found in the lives of the saints.

Each Saint has lived the life of Jesus Christ anew, in different circumstances and different times. St. Maximilian Kolbe giving his life in a concentration camp, Mother Theresa visiting the homes of the poor, St. John Paul II sitting down to write encyclicals... they were all doing the same thing: loving the world with the heart of God.

This is our culture, the culture of Heaven on earth. We should look to, embrace, and live it out. Starting this week, I want to encourage you to read the life of a saint, especially if you've never done so before – it's like travelling to another country and time period!

It might shock and scandalize you. It might soften you up, spur you on, move and agitate your interior. Should we expect anything less from the Kingdom of God on earth?

When we read their lives, however, we are not just reading... from Heaven, those same saints see us reading, and pray for us, and speak to us in their actions and words. Because this Kingdom of God – this Heaven on earth – is truly a family. And just like two brothers seeing each other Lectors and Parents of Mass Servers: If you haven't done so already, please notify Terri Teschner, in the Parish Office, of your own (or children's) availability to help at February's weekend Masses. Thank you so much!
