A Message from Xavier Schmidt, our Seminarian Intern

Dear Parishioners,

I wanted to be a Hollywood movie director growing up. I was enthralled with the magic of the movies. If it was a good movie, it captured my imagination like no other art form. So, I started making short films when I was in sixth grade, and by the time I was in high school, I had found a Catholic film school in California to which I hoped to apply.

While I was waiting to finish high school so that I could pursue this dream, the Lord called me to something bigger using the very thing I love. We were shown a short documentary about the priesthood called "Fishers of Men" in which there is a powerful scene demonstrating the beauty and generosity of the total self-gift the priest makes to the Church. I felt something stirring in my heart at that moment. Because of those images, that story, I knew that the deepest desire of my heart was not my own glory, but God's. From then on, I set my sights on seminary and ultimately, a participation in Christ's priesthood.

The film called me out of myself, but so often, films, TV shows, and short clips on social media trap us in our own egos. Their images, for better or worse, and often without our knowing it, influence our imagination. "You are what you eat" –or better: "Bad company ruins good morals" (1 Cor 15:33). What kind of digital company are you keeping?

There are currently many young minds in our society, including some in our parish, that are being degraded by modern media. They watch shows and movies that glorify drug use, fornication, disobedience, etc. They are lured in by flashy stories and then poisoned by subtle moral laxity, relativism, and depravity. Why are we attracted to the opposite of Jesus?

St. Paul says, "Do not be conformed to this world but be transformed by the renewal of your mind". Many families have successfully stopped letting the world form their imagination. They have stopped watching and listening to things that make them forget about their immortal soul. Christ called me by first capturing my imagination. How many men do not hear the call to become priests because they are saturated with un-Christian images?

I urge you to consider those parts of your life that are not rooted in Christ. He loves us so much that it is sometimes confounding. This week, instead of asking, "Why can't I just keep this one thing for me, Jesus?" why not ask, "What else can I give You, Jesus?"

Your servant in Christ . . .Xavier Schmidt
